Earth Creations® Harvests Spicy Clay-Dyed Color and Comfy, Fashion-Forward Designs for Fall 2010 Women's Apparel Line

BESSEMER, AL (June 7, 2010) – Earth Creations, the only company offering a complete line of clay-dyed women's apparel, introduces its fall 2010 collection. An assortment of feel-good fashionable tops, tunics, outerwear, pants and accessories in rich and spicy eco-safe colors, such as Amethyst, Cinnabar and Patina, the line effortlessly blends an earthy palette with enviro-chic, versatile designs.

"Our fall 2010 collection combines soft, sustainable fabrics and seasonal hues harvested directly from nature to create comfortable, on-trend, yet classic, pieces," said Joy Maples, co-founder and vice president of sales and product development for Earth Creations. "Consumers will enjoy the line's new contoured, figure-flattering fits on several items, as well as its fall-friendly layering and mix-and-match possibilities."

Tops & Tunics

Fall's uniform of long tops and dresses over leggings, skinnies or tights gets a fun new favorite in the Sadie Top (MSRP: $75, bottom right), a hemp and organic cotton jersey hooded tunic that features cute decorative button detail, feminine seaming and side pockets. Equally versatile is the more fitted Mod Hoody Tunic/Dress (MSRP: $75), a supple bamboo, organic cotton and spandex french terry delight that features a drapey cowl neck that can also be worn as a mock shawl or hood.

And for those in search of tee-like comfort and a contoured fit, the organic cotton jersey Ria Raglan (MSRP: $48, left on model) radiates laidback, yet elegant, charm with a dainty boat neck and elasticized shearing at the waistline. Available in two striking prints or unprinted.

Jackets & Pants

A perfect lightweight cover-up for chillier days, the hemp and organic cotton jersey Twilight Jacket (MSRP: $75, lower right on model) is an instant cult classic with its shawl collar, semi-fitted seamed waistband and front and sleeve button detail. And the tie-front Juneau Jacket (MSRP: $90), featuring a bamboo, organic cotton and spandex french terry blend, is an equally essential item for fall's layered looks, with cute princess seams and a supple shawl collar.

Dresses, Skirts & Accessories

Whether worn belted with boots or free-flowing with ballet flats, the hemp and organic cotton jersey Cameo Dress (MSRP: $65, top right on model) adds stylish flair to fall wardrobes with peasant-style sleeves, a scoop neck and an above-the-knee cut. Available in solid colors or with a skirt imprint, the dress perfectly characterizes cool-weather chic.

Fashionistas will also fall for the Villa Skirt (MSRP: $78), a bias-cut hemp and organic cotton jersey piece that can be worn as a long skirt or as a sleeveless dress, thanks to a wide Lycra waistband.

And whether to add extra warmth or whimsy, the soft and stylish Shiver Shawl (MSRP: $50, left) will no doubt top off many a fall ensemble. Made from 100% hemp, the wrap – which can be worn around the neck, shoulders and waist in multiple ways – adds a finished look to any outfit.

The Earth Creations fall 2010 collection will be available in July in sizes S-XL. A complete imprinted sportswear line, including casual tees for women, men and children, is also offered.
